Charles Leonus

Charles Leonus is a film and screen actor known for dramatic, paternal, professorial, or enigmatic roles.

Born and raised in Georgia, Charles built a career in computer science before moving to New York City. There he worked in social justice for more than a decade and discovered his joy of acting. Approaching acting from the analytical perspective of a technologist with the soul of a social justice advocate, Charles thrives in cerebral and introspective roles while also bringing a new sensibility to lighter, more comedic work.

Charles relishes roles that inspire audiences to imagine a better, more inclusive future through imagination, creativity, and community.

ROLES

Charles has had the privilege to portray a range of contrasting roles in film, TV, and streaming productions. These lead and supporting roles include detective, therapist, scientist, teacher, cabal leader, FBI agent, motel manager, dementia patient, animated everyman, priest, vampire, and Satan himself.
